ECONOMY IN WARTIME

MR. GWILLKIMBY FINALLY GETS DOWN TO BEDROCK.

All Luxuries and a Few of the Necessaries Being Cut Out, He Now Buys Small Boys' Watches by the Gross.

"It didn't seem possible that this European war business could ever affect our income in any way," said Mr. Gwillkimby, "but it did hit us finally in a way that we had never even dreamed of; and then, like so many other people, we were forced to economize."

"A man never can tell what he can do till he has to, but then he can do most anything. In our household expenses we found many things that were really only luxuries that we could live without, and then we went through what in fluster days we should have considered as necessities and cut down on them, finding among even these things many that we could do without; and lastly we cut the things we had to have right down to the bone."

"With all these sacrifices, changes and revisions we finally got our expenses down on paper below our reduced income; but somehow, in actual practice it didn't work out that way. Instead of having as we now should have, even on our smaller means, a little surplus, we still had every week a little shortage. It never struck me where that leak was till one day it came to me all of a sudden that I had forgotten to figure into our expenses the cost of our son's watches!"

"Our boy, like most boys at the present time, carries a watch; but I doubt if any other boy on earth is as hard on watches as our boy is. He regulates his watch about seven times a day and sets it seventeen times. About twice a week he takes the back and front off his watch, looks in at the wheels and stirs them up a little and moves the hands."

"Once in a while he takes the works out of a watch, but I have never yet known him to put them back. Frequently he drops his watch, as likely as not on the floor. In one way and another he uses up two or three watches a week, an average of a dozen a month; and whenever he broke his watch he would come to me for a new one and I would give him the money freely."

"But, cheap as these watches are, we couldn't possibly do that much longer now; and the question was what should we do about it, for he had got to have a watch somehow; we would sooner go without milk on the table than ask our boy to go without a watch in his pocket. Then I had another bright idea, on which I am now acting."

"I now buy our watches by the gross instead of singly, thereby making a considerable saving; enough, in fact, to bring our expenses down to just below our income; and I now expect that we shall be able to hold things so until the great war is over and our income gets back to normal."

Finland.

Finland is a grand duchy included in the Russian empire. Women won the vote in Finland as a reward for the active part taken by Finnish women in the general movement for national independence when the women struggled side by side and hand in hand with the men of the country. The diet of Finland gave to women who paid taxes the vote on municipal matters in 1863—that is, to those who lived in the country or the small towns and villages. In 1872 this was extended to taxpaying women who lived in cities. In 1906 there was a great uprising of the Finnish people, and the czar of Russia granted a new constitution to Finland; the parliamentary suffrage was granted to women by the first diet that assembled thereafter. Many good laws have been enacted since the granting of equal suffrage in Finland, but as all laws can be vetoed by the Russian imperial council, some of these have not become operative. Indeed, the rights of all the Finnish people are subject more or less to the general action and decree of the empire and its government.

Cigarmakers Get Good Pay.

The Havana cigarmakers, who formed a large proportion of the audience that witnessed Jack Johnson's defeat, rank among the best paid workmen in the world. They certainly deserve high wages, for not a trace of machinery is to be seen in their factories. Without a mold or binder or any pattern to follow, a Cuban cigarmaker can turn out fifty, seventy-five or a hundred cigars a day, absolutely identical in shape, size and weight, the only implements used being a block of maple wood and a small curved knife. While at work he insists on being amused, and his amusement takes the form of being read to aloud. At every cigar factory in Havana you will find a reader, engaged and paid by the men, and regaling his audience with the daily paper or a novel. Some of these readers receive as much as $50 a week, and many were elected to the first Cuban legislature.

The Heavenly Home.

"Why," asked the little girl, "do angels have wings?"
"Maybe," answered the little boy, "it's to prevent them from getting the golden streets all mused up with their muddy feet."

REO ANNOUNCEMENT

The Reo six at $1000 and Reo four at $750, this would certainly look good to you, wouldn't it, but what would you think? We ask you $1250 for the six and $1050 for the four and it's an honest car and honestly built. Oh, certainly we would like to meet all prices that show up, but we will not meet the quality of the car to do it. We told you when our 1915 Reo four and six came out that it was an honest car and we are not going to come back and show you where we have been skimming you out of from $200 to $400. You can't cut the price of the Reo without cutting the car, and this we refuse to do. The Reo is built in a model factory and by the second strongest automobile concern in the United States. They build one model and keep after it, looking for weak points, and when one is found you can just bet your last fit that it will be removed.

We have in Chickasha 20 Reo cars that are in their first, second and third years, and to date there has not been one dollar piece spent on them. What is the cost of an automobile? Let's see, seven or eight hundred dollars first cost, two weeks trouble getting it to run like a car should, then comes your first auto trip. You think you have a car that is capable but when you put it on the road you find that your troubles just begin, and between leaky radiator, dirty plugs, due to poor finished cylinders, leaky valves, due to burning too much cylinder oil, and in this case it is impossible to properly lubricate your motor without getting too much oil. The only remedy for this is to buy a car the cylinders of which are properly finished and lapped in with a machine that cost more to run for one car than the car with a 23-15 discount can stand to pay. You might as well pay for this to start with and get in your car and ride where you want to than sit in your car in the road and watch the fellow with a real automobile go by while you wait for the service car to pull you in. The concern that thinks no more of its customers than to try to get the price of a big car down to the small car and still give you a big car, is only looking for the come back in repairs. Buy you a car to use, to go where and when you please and not to absorb your income in garage bills. Ask any Reo owner in Chickasha what his repair bill has been and he will tell you that it is not enough to keep up with. The man that gets the cheap car can give you an excuse for his troubles but we give you a car without an excuse and tell you to ride as much as you want to. Give me your car for 30 minutes twice a month and you can drive it the rest of the time in safety to yourself and to the car. The question is not how much you give for your car but how much does it cost you. By buying the cheap car and saving $250 or $300 you only save it to pay for garage bills, spark plugs, excess oil, excess gasoline, and loss of time, and did you ever think of saving in profanity and dirty clothes alone that will naturally come to you by having a car that is like the man that won't stay shipped. Don't mix with anything or anybody that you will have to fight every time you have anything to do with. When you give up your good money get something for it except discount. Mr. Bayer, have you a mind of your own? If so, look over the car before you buy it. All new cars look good but go to the car that is two or three years old and have a ride in it. Judge your car by one that has seen real service. If a car is not a good car at $1125, how much better is it at $700 or $800? The ordinary car at one year old can be bought for half price. Why? Because they have been run the life of the cheap car and the owner knows he is getting well paid for junk, for such is what it can be truthfully called.

You can buy a Reo for $1050 and it can be run at the rate of 15 per 1000 miles for 100,000 miles. Figure if you can afford it. Certainly you can, but can you afford to pay on top of this $100 per 1000 for garage bills and breakage. That is the part of the automobile that costs, that you get nothing for. Would you like to go for an all summer trip in a car that was three years old and never overhauled, never had one new part put on it. Mr. Powers, of Chickasha is on a trip of this kind in a Reo. Don't worry, he will be back and so next year if wishes. I offered $500 for this car but could not buy it. "It's good enough for me," said Mr. Powers.

This is our announcement for Reo. Buy a real car, not a living doctor bill. HENRY DUBOSE, Agent.

A corporation president has retired at the age of 85 having to his credit (?) the distinction of resining all inventions of modern progress in conduct of business.

In his 44 years business he achieved a fair measure of success without the telephone, the typewriter, or the adding machine, how much greater success might his have been had he kept pace with the times?

You can "get by" keeping your money in the clock, or the bureau drawer, how much larger business success would you achieve if you banked your money, thereby systematizing your accounting, and at the same time by consistent sticking to one bank, building a line of credit enabling you to take advantage of an unexpected opportunity larger than your own funds at the moment permit.

Will be glad to have your account, if you are not now a customer.
